I See You!

We offer 3D ultrasounds. Now you can experience your ultrasound along with your family and friends in the comfort of our patient focused environment.

What can you expect from our 3D ultrasound session?

Ultrasound is a non-invasive procedure that uses sound waves to view areas inside your body. The sound waves are bounced through the body and their reflections are translated into images on a monitor screen. It uses no radiation, dyes, needles or drugs. Is it safe for your baby? The simple answer is "yes". The American Institute of Ultrasound in Medicine statement on Safety in Training and Research approved March 1988 states that after 40 years of testing and use of diagnostic ultrasound there has been no confirmed biological effects on patients or instrument operators caused by exposure at intensities used for diagnostic testing.

You will receive pictures of your little one as well as a CD with all the photos included.

Call our office today to make an appointment for your 3D ultrasound.

We look forward to experiencing your first PEEK at your bundle of joy!
